

Romany Love Spell

Amber is potentially a powerful love charm, although you may have to activate that potential yourself.

Romany magick traditions particularly value amber as a love-drawing charm.

Dreams Of Desire:

One a Thursday Night, make a list of all of the qualities you desire in a romantic partner or visualize and name a specific person. Before you go to sleep that night, leave a piece of amber by your bed or under your pillow.

On Friday morning, first thing upon awakening clutch the amber in your left hand, holding it close to your heart.

Close your eyes. Visualize your desire: make it as real and tangible as possible. Really feel into the feelings you would have when you are together. Take as much time as you need.

Kiss the amber and wrap it up in a small piece of silk, wrapping or rolling towards you.

Keep this with you for seven days, carrying it by day, sleeping with it by night, beside your heart, between your breasts (or chest), wherever.

Repeat this process every morning. At the conclusion you will have a highly charged love drawing amulet.

Then on an ongoing basis look at the full moon through the piece of amber, holding it in your left hand and focusing on all of your hearts desires - and again really feel into it as if you are in the love relationship you desire already.

Place this under your pillow as you sleep.

This keeps the charm highly charged as a potent love charm that will draw those desires to you.

Always remember to replenish its power on subsequent full moons and focus on what it is you do want, and see that as your reality - imagine and feel that as your reality.

As you so deem it will become!
